The Hanging Gardens of Towerside

The Prospect Park Community Gardens provide a safe and peaceful environment where home owners and renters can apply their gardening skills and take pride in growing their own food and flowers. While doing so we will be enhancing the neighborhood visually and environmentally by developing underutilized land into green space.

Growing and learning!

The mission of the Prospect Park Community Gardens is to teach residents how to grow their own food. We will create opportunities to involve neighborhood youth and teach them about how food goes from seed to table. The collection of flower and vegetable gardens will be a destination for people of diverse economic, cultural, and educational backgrounds. We will present educational events (venues) that will enable participants to share knowledge and enjoy the rich community of gardeners and garden appreciators in Prospect Park and surrounding areas.
